

WOULD STRESS PHYSICAL WORK

Believes That Schools and Colleges Should Give Credits For Training.

CINCINNATI, O., April 20.—American schools should give marks and credits for physical training the same as for mental work, Randall D. Warden, director of physical training in the Newark, N. J., schools, told the delegates to the American physical education convention here today.

Our schools devote only 15 minutes a day for 45 hours a year, to physical training, he said. He continued: "Think of business men, running a factory, countenancing any such outlay of money as is paid for these two days instruction in physical training. I fancy an efficiency expert that the expense was all out of proportion to the results."

"Today physical training is a minor subject in our school curricula. Why is it so?"

"I. Because the school was developed by religionists and scholars."

"II. Because the school in this country has been dominated by feminism."

"III. Because of the pioneer growth of our country and the development through rural schools."

"IV. Because the school as developed by aesthetics did not include military training."

"V. Because college and state requirements have never given credits for the subject of physical training."

"Let us turn now to the results of an educational program which includes but two days of physical training in an entire year, or to put it otherwise, a system of education which neglects play; overlooks the value of sports for the many instead of the few as at present, and finally falls so ridiculously in making able-bodied citizens that not 50 percent of the male population are physically fit for military service."

"Fore-runner of Preparedness."

"Preparedness rests solely on the ability of each individual citizen to fight. It is founded on patriotism and unselfish devotion, but back of it must be the physical ability to bear arms and to do team work in fighting. There must be the stamina and endurance to stand hardships and severe campaigning and there must be the co-ordinated muscles and the courage to make the charge and win the battle."

"I do not stand as an advocate of military drill in our elementary or in our high schools. Military drill, should, in my opinion, be compulsory at 19 for a term of years as in the Swiss republic."

"I stand as an advocate for the physical preparation which may be made in the public schools if physical education is made of equal importance to mathematics or to science. Preparation in physical training should include the development of a strong and robust body; the teaching of hygienic principles of good living, and the training of competitive skill and courage."

"That these cannot be obtained in a daily course of 15 minutes of physical training in classrooms is self-evident. It should be self-evident also that the subject merits being made subject in the school curriculum."

RACE SEGREGATION CASE GOES TO SUPREME COURT

Elaborate Arguments Filed by Louisville Attorneys—Other Cities Involved.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The race segregation problem, which has stirred up endless trouble in the courts of various states, mostly those of the south, has finally been put to the United States supreme court for decision.

Elaborate arguments have been filed with the court as to whether cities may enact laws separating white and negro inhabitants. The specific case now before the court is a Louisville, Ky., ordinance, which makes it unlawful for a negro to occupy a residence in any block where a majority of the houses are occupied by white persons.

Decision of the constitutionality of this question will settle the validity of similar measures in Richmond, St. Louis, Baltimore, and a score of other cities in the south.

Louisville's local representatives, in briefs submitted, defend the ordinance as necessary to preserve race integrity and prevent racial conflicts. They contend that the measure is not one of discrimination, and is essentially reciprocal in its terms.

Opponents of the ordinance contend that it is a violation of the negro's equal rights privilege.

FIVE DEAD, MANY HURT BY A FREAKISH STORM

Forty-five-mile Gale Sweeps Chicago—Mississippi Valley Affected.

International News Service.

CHICAGO, April 20.—Five dead, dozens injured and thousands of dollars' worth of property destroyed was the toll today of a freakish storm which sprang up late yesterday from the warmest day of the year and swept through the Mississippi valley.

In Chicago a 45-mile gale swept the city, damaging buildings and tearing telephone and telegraph wires. One man was killed. He was struck by lightning as he lay in bed.

Kansas reported three dead in as many different parts of the state. Roads in the rural districts are choked with debris of wrecked barns and fences.

A child was killed at Rich Hill, Mo., and several were injured when a miniature tornado struck the village just before midnight. The twisters swept through north central Iowa and southern Minnesota, injuring scores of persons and doing extensive property damage. At Briceville, Minn., seven persons were injured, some seriously.

HOUSE SUGAR BILL RETAINED

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Senate democrats in conference Wednesday night decided to enact into law the house bill repealing the provision in the Underwood-Simmons tariff law, which would have placed sugar on the free list May 1, 1916.

By about 2 to 1 the senators voted to abandon the bill adopted by the senate as a substitute for the house bill. The substitute provided that the present duty of one cent a pound on sugar should be continued until 1920. The result of Wednesday night's action will be to continue the existing duty indefinitely.

Senate leaders had insisted upon sugar going on the free list by 1920 at least on the ground that democratic policy was against a tax on a necessity of life. Tonight they were won over to the house position by the arguments that revenue was sorely needed, and that the question of free sugar could be considered two years hence, possibly without the keen pressure for revenue.

May Land Job as Penn Coach

LAWSON ROBERTSON

PHILADELPHIA.—From an authentic source it is learned that five prominent athletic directors are being considered as successors to George W. Orton, present coach of the university of Pennsylvania athletic coach and trainer, whose term of office will expire next fall. Besides Orton, who is out for reelection, among them are Lawson Robertson, trainer of the Irish-American Athletic club, and several minor athletic organizations.

What Leading Editors Think

NEW YORK WORLD.—They (the American people) still hope and hope will not cease unless the German government deliberately takes the fatal step that ends all possibility of an honorable and amicable adjustment of past wrongs and all possibility of future guarantees. It is for the German government to say whether it wants the United States for a friend or an enemy; it knows the terms.

BOSTON HERALD.—If Pres. Wilson should involve the country in war, no opposing party could run in the November elections on any other basis than in support of its vigorous continuance. Our people traditionally uphold their flag when it is under fire, and they would do so now.

ST. LOUIS GLOBE-DEMOCRAT.—It is hardly necessary to say that the people of the United States will endorse the president's words. No one can say that America has been hasty.

PHILADELPHIA PRESS.—Pres. Wilson's recital of Germany's repeated violations of the law of nations and of humanity in her submarine warfare is more than ample justification for suspending official relations with that country. The country will be with the president in the stand he has taken.

CHICAGO HERALD.—The United States has been patient about German submarine murders; patient with German evasions, with German duplicity, with German agents' arrogant abuses of American hospitality. It has warned Berlin to desist. Now it threatens. Many will say that the threat does not amount to much. Whatever its force, it is all the president can do. We have heard from the German ambassador that a severance of diplomatic relations means war. That is for Berlin to decide. Germany will have to begin the war, if war there be.

NEW YORK HERALD.—This is no time for division anywhere in the United States. The country is on the brink of war. The president speaks for the nation. It is easy to criticize, and yet he who criticizes now is engaged in a bad business.

SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE.—Serious as conditions are they do not justify war in which we have nothing to gain or even wish to gain except the protection of mankind.

BRITISH MINISTRY HANGS BY THREAD

If Conscriptists Carry Day Break Up of Government Will Follow.

LONDON, April 20.—After the ministerial conference Wednesday evening a more hopeful feeling that the break up of the government will be avoided prevailed in the parliamentary lobbies. It was based on nothing tangible, however, and the general opinion among the public, owing to the unexpectedly grave nature of Premier Asquith's statement in the house of commons is that the life of the ministry hangs by a thread.

David Lloyd George, minister of munitions, controls the situation and, according to the best information reaches to reconsider his position unless it can be proved to him that the useful men for service under the

A Laboratory Product

Were you at the High School Auditorium Wednesday night, April 12? If not, did you hear what happened?

A woman, Marie Kaiser, stood beside a beautiful mahogany cabinet. Her wonderful voice broke forth in song. Then from the cabinet came the same voice, indistinguishable from her own. Save by watching her lips the members of the audience could not tell whether they were listening to the real flesh and blood Marie Kaiser or to Edison's Re-Creation of her voice.

The Edison Diamond Disc actually recreates all forms of music. Edison's research work has been crowned with success. A year or so ago a talking machine manufacturer said: "Yes, Mr. Edison gets a wonderful result, but it is merely a laboratory product; it will never be commercial."

Do you know what Edison has done? He has converted his whole vast factory into a gigantic laboratory. He has developed laboratory processes on an unheard of scale. He is turning out a true laboratory product, in unlimited quantities. Already he has issued nearly one thousand examples of his wonderful new art of Re-Creating all forms of music, and he is issuing

New Selections Every Week.

This new instrument and the wonderful Edison Diamond Disc records will always be a "laboratory product" in quality, but they are being produced in unlimited "commercial" quantities.
